

Poços de Caldas city

Poços de Caldas is nestled in the heart of Minas Gerais, Brazil. Situated in the southern part of the state with 163.742 inhabitants*, the city combines the tranquility of the countryside with the energy and development of a metropolis. Its name, which means “Wells of Caldas”, is derived from the hot springs that dot the area. These natural thermal waters have been drawing visitors for centuries, promising relaxation and rejuvenation. Poços de Caldas is not only a destination that captivates the heart of anyone who visits but also a perfect home for UNIFAL’s esteemed Visiting/Foreign professors.

*Source: Censo 2023/IBGE

Unifal image

Nature’s Paradise for Academic Inspiration

Poços de Caldas offers an inspiring environment for academic pursuits. UNIFAL’s campus in this city benefits from the stunning landscapes, which provide a backdrop for research and contemplation. Professors can find serenity in the city’s rolling hills, waterfalls, and scenic parks, fostering an atmosphere conducive to intellectual exploration and discovery.

Cultural Riches Enhancing Academic Life

Beyond its natural splendor, Poços de Caldas boasts a thriving cultural scene that enriches the lives of UNIFAL’s professors. The city’s appreciation of music, art, and theater offers an array of cultural experiences that can enhance academic insights. Professors can attend concerts, exhibitions, and performances that complement their academic endeavors.

Preserving Academic Traditions

Poços de Caldas historical significance is mirrored in UNIFAL’s commitment to preserving academic traditions. The university’s presence adds to the city’s rich heritage, reflecting a blend of historical and modern influences that inspire academic curiosity.

Rafael Firmani/Unifal image

Wagner Salgado/Unifal image

LIFE IN POÇOS DE CALDAS

UNIFAL-MG

Source: Isadora Lacerda